DODD REARS LOSE FIRST GLASH OVER WILL

Executor's Demurrer is Sustained and Plaintiff's Counsel Gives Notice of Appeal.

The heir-at-law of Mrs. Barbara Dodd lost the opening battle for her share of nearly a quarter of a million dollars when Judge Ellis, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, sustained a demurrer filed by Charles E. Currier, executor of the will, through his attorneys, C. P. Gore and West-land Brook.

James Russell, an attorney for the heirs, announced immediately that an appeal would be taken to the Supreme Court and the sensational evidence and to have been prepared by the heirs would be developed there, if the judge's ruling prompted that.

Judge Ellis' ruling prompted that of the impending testimony, which charged memoranda and intimated, given in the preliminary version of the case an accusation that Mrs. Dodd, alleged because her relatives would not help her "disappear" or to take her husband, had cut them out from participation in her estate.

Witnesses Say She Was Sane.
Mr. Currier had three witnesses Thursday morning to speak for Mrs. Dodd's soundness of mind at the time the will was drawn in December, 1919. Albert C. Broom, a witness to the document; Miss Clifton Linsen, the executrix who typed the will and who had known Mrs. Dodd four years; and C. P. Gore, the attorney who drew the will, all testified that Mrs. Dodd was of sound mind and able to make an intelligent disposition of her property.

Mr. Fannie T. Ackerman, of Macon, a sister of Mrs. Dodd, Henry E. Dibble, a brother, and Barbara K. Dibble, Mrs. C. Dibble, George Dibble, Malvina Dibble and Thomas M. Burdette, and others.

Of her estate Mrs. Dodd left $200,000 to Mercer College, $200,000 to Georgia Baptist Orphans' Home, $200,000 to the infant ward of Grady Hospital and the proceeds from the sale of her jewelry, except a diamond ring, to the Home for the Old Women. She left her sister $100,000 and a diamond to her son, and $50,000 in a trust fund for her brother, Henry Dibble.

Mrs. Dodd was married in 1902 to H. Carter, whom she later divorced, charging cruelty and intemperance. The divorce was granted, and she asserted that her failure to take any part with her husband in the property with her husband affected a child already unsettled and caused her to cut them out of the bulk of her estate.

Corn Club Boys Win Free Atlanta Trips

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS
Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our food is filled with salt and water. A well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but they are weak from the use of meat. They are sluggish; the eliminative function is lost and the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When the kidneys are weak, the blood is impure and you have kidney trouble. It is cloudy, full of sediment, or it is irritating, causing you to seek relief during the night, when you wake from bed with aching back, or you have severe headache, or you are dizzy, or you are nervous, or you are restless, or you are unable to sleep, or you are unable to eat, or you are unable to drink, or you are unable to breathe, or you are unable to move.

This famous salt is made from the finest of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and cleanse the kidneys, to neutralize the acid in the blood, to remove the waste from the system, and to restore the health and vigor of the body.

It is a well-known fact that the kidneys are the most important organs of the body, and that they are the most vulnerable. They are the most important organs of the body, and that they are the most vulnerable. They are the most important organs of the body, and that they are the most vulnerable.

COLLER SAYS HIS BROTHERS CHEATED HIM

Taking Testimony in $450,000 Will Suit Begins in Superior Court.

The taking of testimony in the suit of Sanford Collier against his brothers, John W. and George W. Collier, executors of the $450,000 estate of their father, Wesley G. Collier, to which he seeks to obtain $45,000 which he claims is his rightful and legal interest in the estate, was begun before a jury in Judge W. G. Gresham's division of the Superior Court yesterday.

Sanford Collier, the plaintiff in the case, testified that the morning session of the court, and related the several charges he made against his brothers when the case was first brought to court several years ago. At that time a judge of the Superior Court granted a demurrer against him and carried the suit to the Supreme Court, which reversed the decision of the lower court and remanded the case back for a jury trial.

Collier charges that his brothers, John W. and George W. Collier, have deceived him as to the value of his one-third interest in the estate and bought his share for $17,000 in a certain act of fraud, and the rest in long time notes that were not interest. He said his interest, he declared, was when he permitted the result of disposition and business failure.

He charged also that when he found out his brothers had taken his share of the estate for a loan, and that they refused to return it, he later, he said, he offered to purchase his interest in their father's estate, and he charged that they tricked him into selling all his share of his mother's estate, which he tried to claim when she died. His brothers, he charged, kept him in ignorance of the value of the land because the land in question was located between Buckhead and Peachtree Creek. Sanford Collier charges that before they bought his interest in the estate, they sold some of the property for $10,000, without informing him of the transaction, and later sold the balance of the property for $175,000.

EATING MEAT REGULAR CLOGS THE KIDNEYS, THEN YOUR BACK HURTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally With a Tablespoonful of Salts to Avoid Danger.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get clogged and need cleansing and stimulation. Occasionally, even we have backache and dull misery in lower kidneys, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, indigestion, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and get an ache or pain in the lower back, get about four or five grains of salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from a natural mineral spring and is harmless. It cleanses and stimulates them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

And salts is a deliciously effective little water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says: "I sell salts from day to day, and I believe in overhauling kidneys trouble while it is only trouble."

Ministers' Protest Drives New Doctrine Preacher Off Street

Protests by Atlanta ministers against the doctrines of James B. Tucker, an itinerant street preacher, caused Mayor Woodward to revoke his permit to preach on the streets of Atlanta. The Rev. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, headed the delegation that called on the Mayor.

"I don't intend to allow any preaching on the streets that causes disturbance," said Mayor Woodward. "The streets are maintained by the city for people and traffic to pass along, not for religious meetings."

Tucker attacked a number of demonstrations in expounding a doctrine of happiness that does not recognize a hereafter.

6 BUSINESS MEN TO HANDLE XMAS FUND

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Revelations made by a woman have betrayed a wire-tapping graft plot here in which at least two high police officials figure and hundreds of thousands of dollars are said to be involved. A scandal more startling than that centering about Lieutenant Becker is expected to develop. The woman accuses the high police officials of having worked in league with the wire tappers, whom they have made confession, in which they name two prominent members of the New York department.

The scandal first became known outside the District Attorney's office, when Captain Dominick Riley, known as the "bestest cop" retired from the department on a pension of $12,000 a year. A heart disease was given as the cause of the retirement.

Right after his retirement Riley received a subpoena from District Attorney Whitman to go before the Grand Jury and tell what he knows of the proceeds of their scheme. An official received today that Riley has positive evidence that on civilian police official received $2,500 a month from the wire tappers and 5 per cent of the proceeds of their scheme. An official received today that Riley has positive evidence that on civilian police official received $2,500 a month from the wire tappers and 5 per cent of the proceeds of their scheme.

Among these is George McRae, who was arrested in Los Angeles because of a wire-tapping scheme, by which S. R. Jones, of Pittsburgh, lost $250,000.

Atlantans Are Beginning to Respond to The Georgian's Appeal for Poor Youngsters.

With a committee of six well-known Atlantans in charge of the work, Atlantans are beginning to respond to the first call for the Empty Stocking Fund issued by The Georgian.

Many have harked back to the time when they were children; they have remembered the joy that filled their hearts when Santa Claus brought them all the desires of their heart, and they have remembered also the pang of sorrow they suffered when they awoke on a gloomy Christmas morning and they have sent in checks and money that have given the fund a good start.

But the question is this: Are YOU going to remember? Make Your Christmas Happy.

Are YOU going to do anything to bring joy and happiness into the hearts of the hundreds of Atlanta little boys and girls whose Christmas will be dark and gloomy unless they are helped? Their parents are poor—every cent the bread earner makes must go for the bare necessities of life—there is no money to buy the few toys and candy and nuts, and the other things that make Christmas a festival of heaven to the youngsters.

Send a quarter or a dollar, or anything you feel like giving, into an envelope and mail it to the Christmas Editor of The Georgian. If you haven't time to do that, just mail in at No. 29 East Alabama street on your way downtown and hand in the money simply saying that it's for the Empty Stocking Fund.

A committee of six of Atlanta's best known men—Colonel Frederic J. Pax, Captain James W. English, Wilmer L. Mosby, Forrest Adair, Mayor James G. Woodward and Hugh Cardozo—at the invitation of the Christmas Editor, have agreed to take charge of the fund and see that it is properly used and that every little boy and girl in Atlanta has the kind of Christmas every little boy and girl deserves.

And surely if these men—all business men from every minute means from their own—can take the time to see that the poor little boys and girls are remembered, of by Santa Claus YOU can take the time to mail your gift to the Christmas Editor.

JUDGE OWN HIGH EXECUTIONER; SPANKS BOY

Ten-Year-Old, Too Strenuous for His Dad, Soundly Paddled By Court at Bench.

ATLANTA, N. Y., Nov. 14.—City Judge Whitcomb has reached the determination that heretofore all juvenile first offenders who are brought before him should be spanked and the judge himself will administer the punishment. The first victim, a ten-year-old boy named with petit larceny, was brought before the court today.

"I want him sent up," said the judge. "The man said that he could not control the boy and could not make him go to school."

A man who publicly admits he cannot control his child is not fit to be a father," said the court. "The boy is a bad boy and should be sent to the reformatory. I will administer the punishment. The judge then turned to the father and said: 'You are a good-sized wooden paddle, and I will administer several licks in the good old-fashioned manner.'"

"Now, go home and go to school and don't you dare to skip or steal. If you do, I'll come down and give you a lashing such as you never got at home," said the court as he allowed the youngster to wriggle from his grasp.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

Crawford Wheatley, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations and Representative from Sumter County, called on Governor Stanton today.

Mr. Wheatley, who fought strenuously for the present tax equalization law, expressed himself as entirely satisfied with its prospective popularity and approval by the people.

"Some of the opposition to this law—much of it, indeed—was supposed to center in my section," said Mr. Wheatley. "If the opponents of the law—wherever they are now—are depending on South Georgia to register a kick against it, now, ever, I think they are on a cold trail."

"When this law was up in the Legislature for passage, a campaign, in some degree entirely selfish, moreover, was waged against it, particularly from the outside. Great pressure was brought to bear upon the General Assembly to kill it, and the fight against it all but succeeded. However, it finally was passed by a narrow, but none the less conclusive, margin, and then a campaign of discredit it was started. The latter has failed utterly, I verily believe."

"It requires only a reasonable amount of intelligence and common sense for a person to see that this law is entirely and altogether all right, that very great majority of the people of Georgia are blessed with an abundance of common sense and intelligence, and whenever this law is explained to them they instantly see its justice and righteousness."

"Nothing, moreover," said Governor Stanton has done so far has won for him more friends or greater commendation. The law as he proposed it was founded on nothing more or less than justice—it will bring tax dodgers to 'law,' and it should lower the taxes of honest people."

"The new law eventually will prove universally popular, and will stand as a perpetual monument to the constructive statesmanship of Stanton."

A Georgia politician recently returned from Alabama says the United States House of Representatives is over there, although there seems to be nothing much to it but Underwood.

He thinks Hobson is making a lot of fuss, but few friends. And then he adds, as a sample of what is going on in Alabama, this statement: "In a campaign speech the other day Representative Richmond Pearson Hobson declared: 'I would not willingly say one unkind word against any one of my opponents. I shall not permit one piece of mud to leave my hands.' And then he told the audience that Representative Underwood is a tool of the liquor interests, 'a tool of the Wall Street interests,' and is now and has ever been 'allied with the special interests.'"

Representative Minter Wimberly, of Blount, spent an hour or so with Governor Stanton today, while Senator McNeil was waiting outside to get in.

"Wonder what the puppeteer Blaine Minter is saying to the Governor all that time?" said Mr. McNeil after a bit.

"Probably he is explaining his vote

QUICKLY STOPS WORST BACKACHE

Makes Kidney, Bladder Disorders and Rheumatic Pains Vanish.

If you suffer with backaching kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders, or are tormented with rheumatism, stiff joints and heart-wrenching pains, you will be surprised how quickly and surely Croxone will relieve all such misery. It works right in through the veins, membranes and linings, cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up organs, neutralizes, dissolves, and makes the kidneys soft and filter away the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs clean, strong, active and healthy.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have tried. It is practically impossible to take Croxone without results, for it starts to work the minute you take it. If you suffer with pains in the back or sides, if you are nervous, tired and run down, bothered with urinary disorders, or have any signs of kidney trouble, Croxone is the remedy. Don't spend another needless day suffering. Secure an original package of Croxone to-day, and prove for yourself just now as thousands of others have done, just how quickly it will end your misery. Croxone is inexpensive, and every druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.—Adv.

on something or other," suggested a newspaper man standing near Mr. Wimberly has the reputation of being the champion vote explainer in the House. He has, under the rules, three minutes in which to explain a vote, and he generally avails himself of all three of them, eloquently and convincingly.

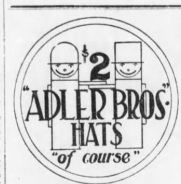

The reported announcement of the President of the United States not to reappoint Jackson O. Clements of Floyd County, Georgia, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, notwithstanding the fact that he is, in point of service, the senior member of its Commission, is deeply regretted by those, among Georgia senators and congressmen, who are generally and justly respected by all parties and factions.

The statement that Mr. Clements' age is the controlling consideration in the matter of his proposed non-reappointment is accepted with considerable reserve, and not a few grains of salt, by the more astute. Other gentlemen in the public service of the nation more advanced in years than Mr. Clements, notably, for instance, Senator Augustus B. Bacon, are thought to be doing their assigned duty well, and in general.

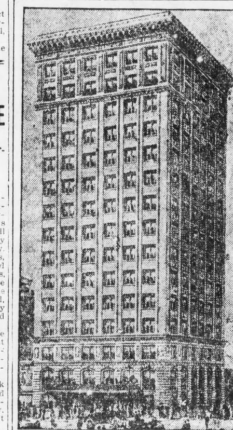

At least, it is among those lines of thought that many Georgia leaders are dwelling the scheduled retirement of the Commissioner. Just exactly what is back of the whole matter few venture to suggest at this time, but that there is something, perhaps political, more than the Commissioner's mere age in general thought to be true.

Mr. Clements has been named in the past to this office by one Democratic and two Republican Presidents. He served in Congress three terms before being named a member of the Commission. He has served on the Commission twenty-one years, and maintains an official residence in Rome, where he has a brother living. Personally, he always has been very popular in Georgia, and politically he has been highly respected by all parties and factions.

SPENCER SILENT ON STAND; CASE NEAR JURY

Late Again, Old Turtle-Toes; His Greeting to Judge—Women
Leave as He Raves.

WHEATON, Ill., Nov. 14.—The case of Henry Spencer, confessed multi-murderer, will probably go to the jury this afternoon and a verdict is expected before night.

Taking testimony by both sides ended abruptly after Spencer himself had been placed on the stand in his own defense. He answered the first question asked by his own attorney by saying: "My name is Jean Valjean." To every other question asked him he answered: "I don't know."

The "hango murderer" began his abuse of the court lawyers and spectators at the reopening of his trial today for the murder of Alfred Adams-Bearcat. Spencer's attitude became so menacing that many women left the courtroom.

Shortly after court reopened the state rested its case, much to the surprise of the defense.

"Late again, old turtle-toes," shouted Spencer as Judge Slosser ascended the bench. "Forty years in the mind time. What's the odds? I want to be hanged."

Again, when Attorney Zeman, who was responsible for the delay, entered the courtroom, Spencer bellowed: "Want to quit your job, eh, you wab?"

Recognizes Death Hammer.

W. V. Hoff, Coroner of DuPage County, was the first witness of the day.

As the witness went to the stand Prosecutor Hadley began opening a package.

There's the hammer," excitedly whispered a woman sitting near Spencer.

Yes, that's the little thing I used to keep women's mouths shut," said Spencer, waving his hands at the crowd.

Prosecutor Hadley then opened the package, which contained the famous hammer found close to where Mrs. Kerkov was killed and with which Spencer claimed he had killed more than a dozen women.

Coroner Hoff testified that Spencer had identified and described the hammer as his.

Wants Hammer Admitted.

"I didn't show Spencer the hammer, not asked him if he lost one. He said, 'Yes.' He told me he had broken the hammer while breaking open a suitcase and had wrapped the handle with twine."

Attorney Zeman objected to the admission of the hammer as evidence. Judge Slosser overruled the objection. Spencer leaped to his feet again, shouting: "I go in, judge, I go in, I go in."

The jury wants to look at my hammer," he yelled about it anyway. "Let it go in," yelled Spencer.

W. & A. Shops Close Down for Funeral of Deihl, Old Foreman

The entire shops of the Western and Atlantic Railroad closed down Friday morning for the funeral services of George A. Deihl, general foreman of the plant and for 45 years an employee of the road, who died Wednesday at his home, No. 62 Woodward avenue.

Headed by M. L. Collier, master mechanic at the shops, more than 500 men marched to the home of the deceased to view the remains at 9:30 o'clock, after which they fell in behind the funeral procession in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, where funeral services were held.

There were 150 white men and nearly 200 negroes in the church as a touching tribute to the late general foreman. They occupied the entire middle section of the auditorium.

Following the ceremony, interment took place in Westview. The funeral was in charge of P. J. Bloomfield.

MRS. PECK DIES.

Mrs. Mary W. Peck, 55 years old, died at her residence, No. 37 Woodward street, at 4 o'clock Friday morning.

Mrs. Peck is survived by one daughter, Miss Bell Peck, two sisters, Misses Sallie and Minnie Bushlin, of Forsyth, and one brother, William Bushlin, of Davisboro, Ga. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Roman Park Baptist Church, the Rev. D. L. Cuts and the Rev. J. B. Pickens officiating. Interment will be in Westview.

AUTOIST IS FINED FOR RUNNING DOWN GIRL

R. E. Brehan was fined $50 by Recorder Broyles Thursday afternoon for running down Miss Mary Hughes with an automobile several weeks ago. Miss Hughes was in bed for several weeks as a result of the accident and the case was postponed a number of times on this account.

Brehan's bond was declared forfeited at one time, but at the insistence of his employer, Otto B. Daneshof, who owned the machine, that Brehan's non-appearance was due to a misunderstanding of the date of trial, the order to forfeit was withdrawn and a new date set.

Miss Hughes was struck while crossing Peachtree street at Pryor and Forsyth. Brehan narrowly escaped confinement at the hands of a crowd which quickly gathered.

The case against R. W. Caldwell, who ran down and killed little Johnny Egan at Peachtree and Ivy streets, was dismissed. Recorder Broyles holding that according to the evidence the accident was unavoidable.

This is a sad and regrettable tragedy," said the Recorder.

Incident from the testimony was unavoidable. There is no evidence to the contrary.

The Why of Detroit

The supremacy of Automobile Manufacturing in America is Detroit's by a big majority.

Millions of dollars pour into her coffers every year from this one industry.

Skilled workmen flock by thousands to the opportunities she offers.

The payrolls from her factories are making Detroit one of the richest of America's rich cities.

How did she do it? The answer is found in the attitude of Detroit's citizens toward Detroit's FIRST Auto factories.

Those Michigan folks were willing to be convinced that Detroit could make as good joy wagons as were made anywhere.

They talked them—they tried them—they bought them.

Now, it's not such a long jump from the things in which we like to ride to things in which we have to walk.

Shoe manufacturing is a new industry in this section. Atlanta is the pioneer.

We sell only made-in-Atlanta shoes for Men and Boys. You'll be proud of the style, quality and finish of them.

Our connection with this right-at-home factory gives us the most efficient fitting service in Atlanta.

We don't ask you to buy a pair of Atlanta-made shoes through patriotism; we would like you to come by and look them over. If you find just the style you like, try them on; if they fit perfectly, try them out. That's all.

PASTOR DEFINES DIFFERENCES OF SEXES

In Series of Epigrams Describes Vagaries of Men and Women Before National Grange

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 14.—Here is the deadly parallel between man and woman as drawn by the Rev. J. Franklin Hays of Haverhill, before the National Grange, now in session locally.

"A woman senses more than she can reason; a man often loses reason without much sense."

"A woman remembers when she ought to forget; a man forgets when he ought to remember."

"With a woman, every last word is the beginning of a quarrel; with a man, every last word is the beginning of a quarrel."

"A woman sometimes knows what she is doing; a man sometimes knows what he is doing."

"A woman often times knows what she is doing; a man sometimes knows what he is doing."

"When she is not hitting a man to his right, she is scratching some one else out."

"There are moments in my life when I am very doubtful that I am a man."

"WHAT DOTH IT PROFIT?"

Beer and Liquor Increase Taxes and Crime, Disease, Degeneracy and Pauperism

"One dollar in—two dollars out."

"For every dollar that the State received in 1912 from liquor licenses, it paid out over two dollars in caring for the criminals, paupers and insane brought to our institutions through drink."

This is the evidence of Massachusetts.

A. D. Cutler was Police Commissioner in San Francisco.

He writes: "I notice a paragraph saying that: 'DIRECTLY, INDIRECTLY ONE-HALF OF OUR CRIMES ARE DUE TO DRINK.'

"While Police Commissioner in San Francisco, it was my custom to examine the records of the City Prison frequently, showing all the crimes and other particulars attending arrests that numbered about 200 daily, and my conclusion was that FULLY 90 PER CENT WERE DUE DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY TO THE USE OF LIQUOR."

"Again, all saloons in San Francisco were closed for thirty days following the great fire in April 1906, the result being that there was so little police duty necessary in spite of the great confusion growing out of the fire that one-half of the police force were given vacations for periods of from ten to thirty days."

"When the saloons were again opened the officers on vacations were recalled, as it was deemed necessary to place the entire force on duty because of the increased crime and disorder."

The Massachusetts Prison Commission reports:

"NINETY-FIVE PER CENT OF THOSE WHO WENT TO PRISON IN 1911 HAD INTEMPERATE HABITS."

The records of the Leipzig Sick Benefit Society show:

"Over ninety-five per cent more accidents TO WORKMEN WHO DRINK than to workmen in general."

"Of the children of drinkers, ten per cent WILL HAVE CONSUMPTION, of the children of total abstainers only one and one-tenth per cent."

A scientist having investigated eight hundred cases announces:

"Of children born to alcoholic parents, one in every five will be hopelessly insane, one in every three will be hysterical or epileptic, and more than two-thirds will be degenerate."

You see—

YOU NEVER DRINK?

Notwithstanding—

Beer and liquor to-day are adding to your taxes.

Beer and liquor are endangering the lives of your wife and children by increasing insanity and disease and instigating crime.

Beer and liquor are breeding degeneracy in the coming generation and making paupers in this.

Why should you let the traffic continue?

Why should you help other men to foster this curse upon yourself, your family and us?

WOMAN TRAPS 3 NEGRO THIEVES IN HER HOME

Lacks Burglars In, Then Runs to Call Police—One of Trio Captured.

Mrs. William L. Pomeroy, 304 1/2 Westmoreland avenue, is receiving congratulations today on the capture of three burglars who broke into her home and stole a quantity of jewelry and other valuables. Mrs. Pomeroy did not dream that there was any possibility of her being burgled, but when she perceived the burglar's presence, she fled to the telephone and called the police. The burglars were taken to the police station and one of them was captured.

Surprised by Police. The first indication that the burglars had been discovered was the sound of the door opening. Mrs. Pomeroy, who was alone at home, was surprised by the police. She had just been to the telephone and was talking to the police. The burglars were taken to the police station and one of them was captured.

Still Another Escape. After the excitement was over, Mrs. Pomeroy returned to her home. She was surprised by the police. She had just been to the telephone and was talking to the police. The burglars were taken to the police station and one of them was captured.

DEBUT OF MISS ELLIS BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT

Miss Katherine Ellis, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ellis, was presented formally to the public at an afternoon reception given Friday by her mother, Mrs. J. H. Ellis, at her home, 1000 Peachtree St. The entire house, which is one of the handsomest in the city, was decorated lavishly.

The debutante and her mother received at the end of the drawing room, where the handbags and shoes were placed in a row. The array of beautiful bouquets of every kind and color formed a striking background and in addition there were large gilt baskets of pink roses scattered to the white columns of the room and from the doorways. Guests were seated in the corners of the room and in the last American Beauty room were used.

After a play from behind a curtain, and punch was served in the large hall, which was lined with velvet and gold. Miss Ellis, who is a member of the Junior League, and Miss Jackson, who is a member of the Junior League, were seated at the end of the hall. The afternoon reception will be followed by a dinner-dance at the home of Mrs. J. H. Ellis.

MRS. T. R. SAVES 2 ACTRESSES IN BRAZIL

Met Ex-President When They Dined With Him in Virginia

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Reduced at sea.) By Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and the Colonel, who advised them to take a vaudeville engagement in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and to return to New York, Miss Gladys Waddell, 17 years old, and Miss Loan Shore, 17, arrived home.

Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt, with their young cousin, Miss Margaret Roosevelt, became acquainted with the girls when the Colonel danced at a party given by Mrs. Waddell at a ship party. Mrs. Roosevelt asked the girls to come to the city where they were going and they said they had signed a contract to appear at a music hall in Rio.

breach of contract taken to court, and a pompous Portuguese vaudeville manager appeared against them. For them, however, appeared the American Consul, to whom Mrs. Roosevelt had written on her personal card.

"My dear Mr. Consul: If you can in any way assist Mrs. Waddell and Miss Shore, I shall be very much obliged," Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt wrote.

She had addressed a similar card to the American Minister at Rio. The Consul left his preparations for the reception to the Roosevelt family to take charge of the matter and the diplomatic forces brought to bear upon them on board the Vestrals bound for home.

The Vandrives was just going to her dock as the Vestrals left. The girls went yesterday to the home of Mrs. Shore, No. 44 West One Hundred and Fourth street, Friends on the Vandrives had given them letters which will aid them in getting employment here.

Camp Is Deserted; Contractor Missing

GAZDEN, ALA., Nov. 14.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of W. T. Strobel, a prominent road contractor, who has disappeared from Marshall County with eighteen miles and road building equipment. He owned the mules, but had obligations with merchants at Guntersville and Albertville. He quit work at night and on the following morning the camp was deserted.

Boy Shoots Self; Girl Refused Escort

BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 14.—"Don't touch me, I want to die," pleaded 18-year-old Herman Cherry as he lay prostrated on the sidewalk in front of the Home Telephone Company office last night with a self-inflicted bullet wound just over the heart.

Cherry was prompted to his act because his sweetheart, Ethel Boyd, 17, a telephone operator, rejected his proffered escort and accepted that of another. The young man shot himself in the presence of the girl.

Safe and Sane Football Is Shown Mostly Before the Gridiron Season Begins

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED BY EXPERTS

PRINCETON NOT OVERCONFIDENT OF A VICTORY

"Big Bill" Edwards Declares Yale Eleven Shows a Vast Improvement in Playing.

By W. H. ("Big Bill") Edwards.

New York Street Cleaning Commissioner and One of Princeton's Most Famous Gridiron Heroes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Princeton plays her last football game for the season of 1913 against Yale at New Haven next Saturday.

Yale has been held in high regard for her football ability. A study of gridiron records shows Yale's position to be an enviable one, and anyone who thinks Yale will not show a good, strong team against Princeton is very much mistaken.

When Yale is humbled, let her opponents wait out.

There has been a big improvement at the Yale field since the Colgate game, and the Yale team in the Brown game shows much advance in team play. The spirit of Yale still lives, and that spirit has increased doubly since defeat.

There is not a man on the Yale team but what would give everything to defeat Princeton and Harvard, and any team that goes to New Haven expecting a walk-over had better sit down and reason out some of these facts.

Consider Yale Strong.

As for Princeton, she expects to find Yale good and strong, and physical condition is excellent, and the players are eager to square themselves in the life final game with Princeton and Harvard.

Yale has been working on a few—only a few—strong plays, demonstrating good, fast kicking. Yale is likely to block some of Princeton's plays.

Princeton is going to consider Yale as strong as the strongest team Yale ever had. This is wise, for the success of any team depends on the spirit, and this spirit, and both team, strong and fast, will enter the game resolved to play their best.

She's Injury Costly.

Princeton started Tuesday in light final work to prepare for Saturday's game. It was unfortunate for Princeton that Shea was injured, for he will not participate in Saturday's game. Shea had promised to be one of the best ends in the country.

Yale is taking a big brace to beat Princeton, and unless Princeton can establish good, fast kicking, Yale is likely to block some of Princeton's plays.

The great success in the winning team of today is to work off plays for which there is no defense. Harvard's success in having four plays forward smash into the man who expects to run with the ball.

Princeton will try to copy. There is nothing more dangerous than a team who runs with the ball than to be met and tackled by the Princeton line.

The Yale Princeton game promises to be a very hard, close-fought game, with the advantage in Princeton's favor.

Auburn Choice Over Commodores

McGugin Has a Great Record

By Fuzzy Woodruff.

McGugin took charge of the Black and Gold squad at Vanderbilt. The Commodores will face a S. I. A. A. team second in the betting Saturday.

McGugin's Southern record has been unimpaired. He came to Nashville in the early part of the season, and since that time, with the single exception of one year, he has won the championship of the S. I. A. A. and even that year he entered his team as odds-on favorite against Sewanee.

And McGugin not only defeated all Dixie opponents, but he was a rule over them. At various times before his advent Georgia, Auburn, Tech, S. I. A. A. and even that year he entered his team as odds-on favorite against Sewanee.

It was McGugin who had the team to beat, and a Southern team to beat. McGugin was not only a great player, but he was a great coach.

What Is To Become of Me?

That's the question that was put squarely up to Evelyn Nesbit Thaw as she faced an ordeal, such as few women survive, at the trial of her husband for the slaying of Stanford White. How she tried to answer the query forms the nucleus for another thrilling installment of the life history of this remarkable woman. It appears in as one of the many gripping tales which make up this truly great paper. There will be fact and fiction in plenty.

Where Shakespeare Went to Church is sure to interest the students and is Sunday reading of the highest caliber. Then there's a real sermon as well in which is the story of how young Gates hurried himself to an untimely grave. And along that line Clara Morris will explain

Why So Many Actresses Go Into Bankruptcy

But these things are but a part of this monumental bargain. You'll have to read it to see how great it really is. Better order at once from your dealer, or by phone to Main 100.

The More We See of the Tango the More We Think Wrestling Is a Snap

GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED BY EXPERTS

GEORGIA-TECH WILL PLAY ON
GRANT FIELDAthens Authorities Finally Waive Demand That Game Be at Ponce Park.

THE Tech-Georgia gridiron battle will be played at Grant Field Saturday afternoon. This much was decided this afternoon when the local authorities received word from Athens that the Red and Black squad had agreed to play the game on Grant Field.

Georgia had been holding out to have the struggle settled on Ponce DeLeon for the past week. For a time it seemed as if the battle would be cancelled altogether as neither side showed any tendency to give in. Tech has been using Grant Field for all its home games this season and did not think it right to throw the campus aside for the Georgia team.

On the other hand, Georgia wanted the game played at the same place as in former years, Ponce DeLeon. They held out until today for Ponce, hoping against hope that the Tech authorities would give in.

The situation came to a climax this afternoon when William N. Randall, director of athletics at Tech, received the following wire from R. V. Sanford, of the Georgia University, at Athens:

Your wire of the 12th received. The contract evidently contemplated that the scheduled game should be played as usual at Ponce DeLeon and the correspondence referred to does not attach the suggestion of a change to the game. However, to relieve any doubt on the subject, and in deference to requests from the student body and alumni of Georgia, and after conferences with the university authorities, I have decided to waive our rights in the premises and to play the scheduled game at Grant Field.

Boxing Notes

Douglas McCreary, of Milwaukee; Ray Brown, of Indianapolis; waterweight title claimant; and Milburn Saylor, of Indianapolis, will go to the ring as champions of the boxing rings of that continent. They will sail from Vancouver on November 12 at the same time the world touring giants and Chicago White Sox depart for the Orient.

Harry Ketch, of the Pacific (W.C.) boxer, will be in the ring with Ray Brown, of Indianapolis, on November 12 at the same time the world touring giants and Chicago White Sox depart for the Orient.

Joe Mandel, of New Orleans, who is the champion of the world, will be in the ring with Ray Brown, of Indianapolis, on November 12 at the same time the world touring giants and Chicago White Sox depart for the Orient.

Promoter D. T. Toruloff, of New Orleans, announced that he has arranged a bout between Charlie White and Jimmy Dundee, for New Orleans, on November 12 at the same time the world touring giants and Chicago White Sox depart for the Orient.

Toruloff has also arranged a bout between Mike Gibbons for a ten-round bout December 18. Milwaukee was to go to the scrap, but Toruloff's offer looked better to the champion.

Eddie Campbell and Kid Williams will be the next fighters to go to the ring in Los Angeles, when Williams will carry over a year ago. Williams carried off the decision after twenty rounds, but not fighting.

Frank Porter, of this promoter, is planning to put a live boxing promoter in November 27. Frank Porter, of this promoter, is planning to put a live boxing promoter in November 27. Frank Porter, of this promoter, is planning to put a live boxing promoter in November 27.

Mann Loses Claim
Against Pilgrims

CINCINNATI, Nov. 13.—The National Basketball Commission has ruled that the claim of Mann for the Pilgrims' National League title is null and void. Mann's claim was based on the fact that he had won the title in 1912, but the commission ruled that he had not won the title in 1912.

Organized Baseball
Prepared to Fight,
Declares Herrmann

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 12.—

"They can have peace or they can have war, whichever suits them best. These were the words of the keynote speech delivered by Harry Herrmann, president of the National Commission, before a gathering of baseball men at a banquet here last night, and outlined for the first time, officially, the attitude of organized baseball against the Players' League and the Players' Fraternity. The head of the National club is to be known, and distinctly so, that peace was organized baseball profers, but that it should be, it will be a better one. He also said that organized baseball is well prepared to fight."

"Baseball will not be content to slide over the Players' League, but the game is open to all. When players have signed their signatures to contracts, the commission will make an effort at all times to enforce all provisions of such contracts, whether they affect the player or the club owner."

Wahoo Praises Carlisle Eleven
Indians Are Bunch of Kidders

CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 12.—To the fan who believes that the Indians are a bunch of kidders, the statement of Charlie Wahoo (Wahoo), the one-time famous right end of the Carlisle Indians, to the effect that the members of his race, on the gridiron at least, are a "bunch of kidders" will come as a distinct surprise.

Wahoo, who was here yesterday on his way to the meeting of the National Football Commission in Columbus, insists that the Indians take their football work more lightly than any other players. "They regard it merely as a recreation," he says. This opinion was confirmed by their coach, "Pop" Warner, who says that the Indians have as keen a sense of humor as have any of their white opponents.

Joe Bean Expects Big Entry List in Cross-Country Run

Joe Bean is completing arrangements for the third annual cross-country run, to be held under the auspices of the Atlanta Athletic Club on Thanksgiving Day. Joe states that entries are pouring in fast and that some of the choice local runners will compete. Indications point to a larger entry list than that of last year.

The runners are to cover a course of about three miles, starting at the clubhouse. A team prize will be given to the team scoring the lowest number of points while a prize will also be given to the individual winner of the race.

A Lesson for Atlanta From Germany

Uncle Sam Should Be the Business Partner of the Citizen. How the Intelligent Germans USE the Power of Government.

Germany sets an excellent example in government co-operation with individuals.

The great thing in business is to make your customers SEE that you have what they want.

The German Government, which co-operates fearlessly and sanely with German industry and commerce, is planning to utilize the moving picture in order to boom German business in foreign lands.

All kinds of work that Germans do for foreign consumption will be shown on films, and these films will be displayed and described by intelligent lecturers throughout the world to impress upon buyers nobly and agreeably the fact that the words "Made in Germany" mean WELL MADE.

If this is good for Germany, why is it not good for Atlanta? At an exhibition of Atlanta-made goods, held here not so very long ago, there was displayed an amazing list of things that are manufactured in this city and the surrounding country. The average citizen knows but little. The exhibition was a success in that it opened the eyes of the consumer to the fact that he can buy almost everything he wishes right from the local maker.

With the opening of the Panama Canal Atlanta business interests are bound to take on added life. We shall be brought closer to the nations of the earth. Why can't Atlanta manufacturers compete with makers of goods in other countries? Why not do as the shrewd Germans—use the moving picture machine to bring to the attention of world buyers the advantages of Atlanta-made goods?

The Germans intelligently reason that the people will believe what they can see. And they mean to make the world SEE just what Germany is doing.

Thus we learn that in some ways the German Government is more intelligent and useful than our own.

Our Government is AFRAID TO USE ITS POWER. About fifteen years ago W. R. Hearst, commenting on the mistakes made by those who indiscriminately denounce what they mistakenly call "paternalism," said to one of his colleagues: "You can't destroy power. If you take it away from government, individuals will have it. If you don't want individuals to have it, you must let government exercise it."

"Our forefathers, establishing this Government, were impressed with the abuse of power by the Government of England, and tried, therefore, to build up a system under which the Government would not be able to exercise full power.

"Consequently, the power taken from the Government was promptly picked up by individuals. And we have seen individuals taxing the consumer through trusts and public monopolies that the Government is not permitted to own."

The South offers a fertile field for Government exploitation. The territory surrounding Atlanta has boundless possibilities. Manufacturers are springing up on every hand to take advantage of Nature's marvelous resources. The mines in the Birmingham district fix the price of iron of the world. Japan has used miles upon miles of iron pipes manufactured in the same district.

Cotton factories are being built in the fields that are white with the South's great staple, and there is no reason why cotton goods made in and around Atlanta and other cities of the South should not be sold in every country in the world.

We can make almost everything that man needs for his comfort and convenience. The only question is to let the world know what we are able to do. That's where the Government can do a wonderful work, just as the Government of Germany is helping the manufacturers of that country.

Every seaport of the United States is filled with the merchant ships of other nations. They bring cargoes of goods manufactured in Europe and in Asia to compete with articles manufactured in America. This Government should begin the active building of a great merchant marine; a gigantic fleet of ships that should carry American-made, Atlanta-made, if you please, goods, over the Seven Seas. At one time the United States dominated the seas; to-day our merchant marine is deplorably small. It should be raised to the first power and the Government should lose no time in bringing about this new condition.

Other nations are alive to the importance of foreign trade. They do not hesitate to establish subsidies for the benefit of manufacturers and vessel owners. They regard it a duty; just as this Government should regard it.

The German Government, which is, of course, the richest and most powerful force in Germany, works to help the German citizen, be he big manufacturer or small working man, and gives to the citizen the co-operation of a powerful partner—government.

The German Government lends money to the farmer and charges him four per cent or less.

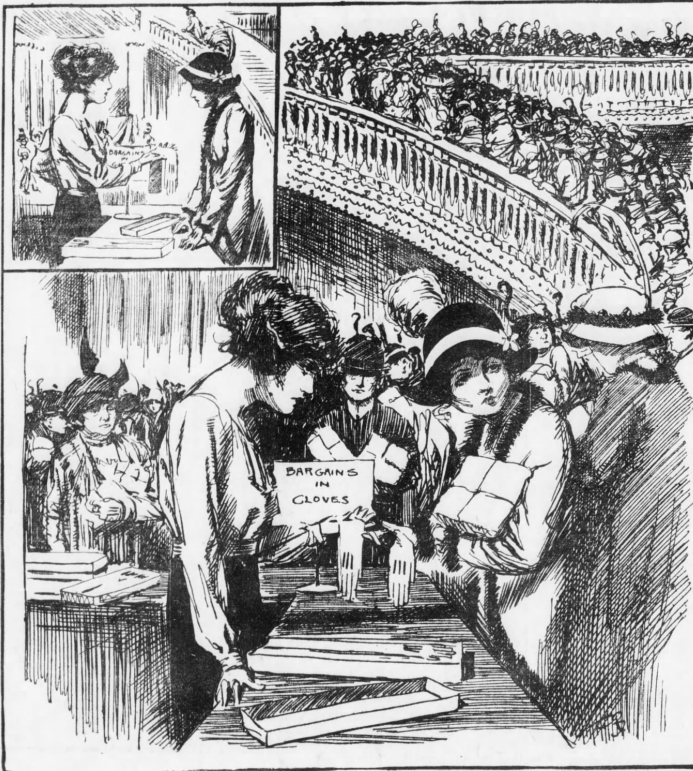

Our Government thus far has been afraid to lend money to the farmer, and the private banker has bled the farmer to the tune of eight and one-half per cent on the average.

The German Government helps the little worker with old age pensions and compulsory benefit funds, and the German workman in his old age is provided for.

"Our Government shivers with fear at the idea of such 'paternalism,'" and so our workmen, when they are old and worn out, may go to the poorhouse.

And the poorhouse keeper, who is incidentally a grafter, makes the taxpayer contribute for such poorhouse inhabitant, who lives miserably a sum that would keep him in comfort, happiness and honor OUTSIDE of the poorhouse.

Look Ahead---Study This Picture

The little picture above shows how you can do your Christmas shopping TO-DAY IN COMFORT AND ECONOMICALLY BY GETTING THE BARGAINS.

The big picture shows how the shopping must be done in the last days of the dreadful Christmas rush.

Be considerate of the hard working people in the shops and of yourself. Do your buying now comfortably, economically, deliberately and be kind to others.

The Learning in a Good Dictionary

By THE REV. C. F. AKED, D.D., LL. D.

THE man who said that a dictionary was a very interesting book, but that it changed the subject too often, had not seen the new one. I have. It is a wonderful production, and one can spend many happy hours with it, making delightful discoveries all the time. The way to enjoy this new dictionary is to sit at one's desk, turn over the pages, read here and there, and find that every fresh paragraph sends you to another for something you have always meant to look up, some day and to find there something new and interesting and suggestive.

The first thing which strikes one in preparing to study it is the new arrangement. It is a gazetteer and a dictionary of words, and I know not what besides. Jack London comes next to "a family of booby-headed, dithyrambic insects with sub-equal basal cells and four longitudinal veins per cell" repeating in the supplementary list of "insectoidae" and after him comes London Bridge, Gertrude Atherton will be found next to "a small Malayan or African bush-tailed, porcupine" called an "echinura," and next to "a large bubaline antelope found in East and South Africa" comes our own Ben Hur.

It sounds funny. But there is nothing funny in having everything in one list, so to speak, and of being able to find anything, a place, a person, a foreign phrase, a Latin law term, a Biblical character or one from the Greek dramatists, in the dictionary in the place to which alphabetical precedence entitles it. The convenience of it all will appeal to every busy man and woman in the world.

The illustrations are a source of never-ending wonder. Under "man" is given the fashionable headgear of the century from the sixteenth to the twentieth. But day

Does Personality Exist After Death?

By GARRETT P. SERVIS.

THE most remarkable statement that has yet been made of the present attitude of science in its effort to comprehend the world around us is the recent address of Sir Oliver Lodge as president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

The facts and theories that he mentions are not new to those who have closely followed the progress of scientific thought, but they are new to those who have not. It is his opinion about the existence of personality after death that makes his statement valuable. And, then, he has shown out suggestions about things as yet but dimly seen which are full of inspiration for all who use their brains for some higher purpose than merely getting money or convincing idle amusement to fritter away their brief time on earth.

The topic of Sir Oliver Lodge's address is "Continuity." The most continuous, or uninterrupted, material thing of which we have any conception is the ether. The ether, which we can neither see, nor feel, nor in any way apprehend directly by any of our senses, is the one all-pervading substance that binds the whole of the particles of matter together. It is the unifying and binding medium without which, if matter could exist at all, it could exist only as chaotic and in isolated fragments; and it is the universal medium of communication between worlds and particles. And yet it is possible for people to deny its existence because it is unrelated to any of our senses except sight; and to that only in an indirect and not easily regarded fashion."

His opinion about the existence of "non-planetary, immaterial dwellers" in the space around us is clearly expressed in the following words:

"In justice to myself and my associates" (this refers to his associates in the Society for Psychical Research) "I must risk nothing by my present assertions, not only by leaving on record our conviction that occurrences now regarded as occult can be examined and reduced to order by the methods of science carefully and persistently applied, but by going further and saying, with the utmost brevity, that already the facts so examined have convinced me that memory and affection are not limited to that association with matter by which alone they can manifest themselves here and now, and that personality persists beyond bodily death."

"The evidence, to my mind, goes to prove that disincarnate intelligence under certain conditions may interact with us on the material side, thus indirectly coming within our scientific ken, and that gradually we may hope to attain some understanding of a larger, perhaps ethereal, existence and of the conditions regulating intercourse across the chasm. A body of reasonable investigators has even now landed on the treacherous but promising shores of a new continent."

Considering the acknowledged standing and the known acquirements of Sir Oliver Lodge in the field of science, these expressions of his are worth a great deal of thinking about.

DOROTHY DIX

Courtship Lies

If Men and Women Were Honest With Each Other Before the Wedding, Says Dorothy Dix, Fewer People Might Wed, But More Would Stay Married.

By DOROTHY DIX.

THE Supreme Court of another State has decided that any kind of a misrepresentation goes in courtship, and that if a young man tells a young woman, as an inducement for marrying, that he has plenty of money in the bank, a lucrative job and a good home ready furnished to take her to that the said young woman has no recourse in law if she finds out that none of these things is true, but that they are merely the pipe dreams of some modern Claude Lorraine. In handing down the opinion the justice said:

"It is a well-recognized principle that, in the state of mental exaltation accompanying courtship, statements made as to the mental, moral or financial condition of the parties shall not be too closely scrutinized, nor shall they be held to a strict accountability thereafter."

This is not only the law, but it is the commonly accepted custom of the matter. Men and women who are otherwise honest and who would scorn to gamble with loaded dice or marked cards do not hesitate to play the love game crooked.

Men who would not inveigle another man into a business under false pretenses do not scruple to entice a woman into matrimony by means of glittering falsehoods and misrepresentations.

Women whose consciences would not allow them to deduct a year from the age of a horse they were trying to sell take off ten or a dozen years from their own ages when they are trying to entice a husband and hear never a whisper from the still, small voice.

What else is it but deliberate deception in a woman to let the man she is expected to marry only see her when she is painted and powdered and wined and dined and decked up in her very best and most becoming clothes?

What else is it but fraud that makes a girl in the days of courtship act so meek and mild that she makes perfect Griselda, look like a lamb? What else does she run this kind of a confidence game when she agrees with everything her beau says and breaks her neck trying to please him in every way and gives him to understand that she considers him a very fountain of wisdom?

What else is it than deception of the deepest dye for a man when he is courting a girl to tell her that he knows nothing in life but the bliss of murmuring words of endearment and that he is so like a child and holding her little white hand in his, when he knows that he is really a very different person?

The Need of a New Boys' High School

There comes to The Georgian every month a voluminous contemporary magazine, the Boys' High School Tatler, published in Atlanta.

The Tatler is the official organ of that splendid institution of learning from which it is believed that the future of the city, perhaps, at some future date. Many prominent citizens of Atlanta at present are alumni of the Boys' High School, and apparently the members of the Board of Education believe that the Tatler is a conclusive proof that the Boys' High School needs attention. Without regard to the increase in attendance, it is apparent to the most casual observer that the very building itself is no longer what it once was.

Considering the source of the suggestion, we incline to think it worthy of immediate and earnest attention.

These high school boys are old enough to know EXACTLY WHAT THEY WANT AND NEED IN MATTERS OF THIS KIND.

The Georgian extends to its contemporary, The Boys' High School Tatler, the complete assurance of its respect and most distinguished consideration!

We are persuaded The Tatler tells only such tales out of school as may safely and surely be told by The Tatler. Hence the Boys' High School needs a new building. The Georgian inclines to think so.

And to that end, we trust the powers that be will give due attention to what The Tatler has to say with respect to this and other matters.

Current Comment

"TO BE READ BETWEEN LINES"

(From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

President Wilson knows what he wants when he wants it; he knows why he wants it. It is growing upon the public intelligence that he wants the currency and banking bill to prop up declining industries, exhibit under a food of importations, in many lines under new tariff regulations. More and more it is coming to be conceded, by the supporters as well as the opponents, or the questioners, of the currency-over bill that, in a practical operation, it would work toward currency inflation.

"THE VANDERLIP PLAN"

(From the Boston Herald.)

Shrewdly and tactfully, there is very little of any argument in favor of a number of central banks rather than one. In fact, the arguments in favor of a number apply to the one in every case, and the experience of all other countries is such that the establishment of more than one bank must mean the weakening of the influence of our central system. Taking all these things into consideration, it is believed that the Senate committee will not allow the currency bill to pass. Any device which may be suggested that would be a step toward the establishment of a central bank under government control.

GRAIN NOTES

the market may expect a decline in the price of corn, as claimed by the bulls in corn. The market is heavily oversold, he says. The November corn report is expected to show a surplus of 98 last year and 94 last year as compared with last year's surplus of 100. The price of corn is 84 per cent of the Government November 1934 price of 150.00 cents.

PROVISIONS—Foreigners continue to defer the offerings in the market. The market has a firm tone. WHEAT—The market is firm. BERNARD MILLER GRAIN REPORT—LOUIS, Nov. 14.—Reports from all sections of the winter wheat belt indicate that crops are well maintained. No damage is reported, but the continued warm weather has caused increased uneasiness in the market. Damage to early crops has been reported in some localities. Heavy snow has fallen in Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and a few sections in Indiana. It is expected that it to disappear rapidly. The market is still under way in a few of the localities. MARKET—The information tends to indicate that the estimate in regard to the crop is sound.
